

Campbell County Coalition of Recovery Resources Opioid Settlement Funding

Overview

Due to the extensive damage and loss of life caused by the opioid crisis that was brought on by the unethical and over-prescribing of opioid medications, the state of Tennessee will be receiving over $1 billion over the next 18 years in settlement funds from several large corporations. Campbell County has been allocated a portion of these funds, which will be received in annual payments. The County has established the Campbell County Coalition of Recovery Resources (C.O.R.R.) to oversee the spending of these funds to ensure they are used to remediate the opioid crisis and save lives. The coalition will invite community organizations to apply for these funds annually.

Availability of Funds

The selection process for funding will utilize a competitive process, and the number of awards will be dependent on the amount of funds available for annual allocation. The amount of funds available and dates of application submissions and awards will differ annually. Proposals for the 2025 funding cycle will be accepted from March 9, 2026 to April 2, 2026.

Eligibility

Applications will be accepted from any organization that serves residents of Campbell County but will only be distributed to those that provide services that fall within the approved remediation uses set forth by the TN Opioid Abatement Council, listed below in Allowable Uses of Funds and outlined in Exhibit E. If an applying organization is located outside of Campbell County, funds will only be awarded to that organization if they are used to serve Campbell County residents. The Campbell County Coalition of Recovery Resources will dispense funds in accordance with all applicable rules and regulations that counties must adhere to when allocating funds to community organizations.

Selection and Award Process

The Campbell County Coalition of Recovery Resources will review and score all applications received. C.O.R.R. will consider scores along with other factors to make funding decisions. These factors may include county priorities, community needs, funds available, cost-effectiveness, and federal and state regulations. If the total amount requested is higher than the total amount available for distribution, applicants may be contacted to discuss possible project and/or budget revisions.

The Campbell County Commission will have final approval of any funding recommendations provided by the C.O.R.R.

The funding period will be 12 months in duration beginning the date the award is received by the awardee unless an alternative project start date is agreed upon by the awardee and the Campbell County finance director.
